

Using the nucleus as a laboratory for QCD with e - A scattering

Raphaël Dupré

(IPNO, Orsay)

This lecture will review selected topics in the domain of hadron structure and formation from e - p scattering. Then, we will review their extension to the e - A scattering and how it informs our current understanding of the nucleus from a hadron physics standpoint.